Philippine Governor General's Offspring Accumulates
Fortune

By Associated Press
New York—Financial operations of Lieutenant Osborne C. Wood, son of Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, who is reported to have accumulated a fortune of between $700,000 and $800,000 in Wall street,
were made the subject of a war department investigation, the New York Times said Wednesday.

"It has been learned also, on the best of authority the Times said, that the department found nothing wrong ever in the transactions of the young officer to call for censure, but that the department did strongly advise him to stop speculating at once, and that communications on the subject passed between the department and Major General Wood, who directed his son and aide to put an end to all his speculative operations, Lieutenant Wood's financing ceased at once.

The Times says that Lieutenant Wood must have followed the speculative method known as "pyramiding,"
or the purchasing of additional stock
with the profits accumulated on paper
from a former purchase.

Lieutenant Wood, the Times says,
is believed to have "caught" the beginning of the so-called dividend market in the fall of 1922 and happened to pick the share stock with advance was most violent and considerable. This was Standard Oil of New Jersey, whose directors in the early fall of 1922 were trying plans for a stock dividend of 400 per cent which they declared on Oct. 11 of that year.

In the late summer of that year,
the stock touched its low price of $169
a share. On Sept. 1, it sold at $183, moving up to 185 two weeks later. In the week of Sept. 20, it crossed the $200 mark and between Sept. 20, and
Oct. 11, it rose exactly 50 points to $250.50. Then it broke to $200.
The new four-cent stock now sells around $7 a share.

GROWS STEADILY
Local investigation of the reports
by the Times, it says, "has disclosed that Lieutenant Wood began making remittances to this country in the fall of 1922, and that these grew steadily, although at all times subject to the usual fluctuations of an active account. The funds in the main were able drafts purchased in the Manila
office of the Hongkong and Shanghai bank with instructions that these funds be transferred to the New York office of that institution. On arrival here, the New York branch of this bank held the funds to the Chase National bank which in turn transferred them to the Central Trust Co. of Chicago where they were deposited in the name of and to the account of Osborne Wood.

"This year some remittances were
by Osborne Wood to his father-in-law, Henry R. Thompson, president of the United States Finishing Co. Several months ago the account of Osborne
Wood in the Central Trust Co. of Chicago was closed and the account in the United States Finishing Co. was transferred to his father-in-law's bank in New York and deposited to his account in the National Park bank, New York. This account formerly in the name of Mr.
Thompson, acting for his son-in-law,
was changed later to the name of Lieutenant Wood. It has been reported to aggregate normally between $175,000 and $200,000 although it has fluctuated considerably, running as high as $250,000 and as low as $150,000.

Mr. Thompson is quoted by the Times as making the following statement regarding his son-in-law's financial operations:
"When in Manila last winter I learned that my son-in-law had made some money in fortunate speculation which permitted him to live in better style than was expected of a second lieutenant. I know, under my advice, he is entirely out of the market and I hope he has hung on to his savings."

NOBLE PEDDLER HOLDS REUNION AT GREEN BAY

By Associated Press
Green Bay—The family of Henri De La Motte, descendant of French nobility and heir to an estate in France, enjoyed the first family reunion in 27 years here Tuesday.

Located by a newspaper picture of a line of toy peddlers in Chicago, Henri De La Motte was brought here from Chicago. Mrs. H. H. Scott of New York, who came west when she received word that her father had been located.

COAST STORM CLAIMS TOLL OF FIVE LIVES

Heavy Gale Causes Loss Of Two Ships And Many Small Boats

Seattle—After a Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in which the Pacific coast in the vicinity of British Columbia and Washington was lashed by furious gales causing a death toll of five and the loss of two ships and temporarily disabling two others, the storm-swept section was recovering
Wednesday with weather conditions considerably improved.

The storm apparently centered about Grays Harbor, where the wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour. At Port Angeles, on the south side of the Straits of Juan De Fuca,
and at Tacoma and Seattle the wind ranged from 45 to 60 miles an hour, beckoning government weather bureau
records in some instances.

The fatalities as result of the storm,
included four members of the Canadian tug Tyne, which was wrecked on the rocks at Pedder bay, near Victoria, B. C., and Gus Quamson of Aberdeen, Wyo., who was killed by current from a fallen electric power wire.
In many cities the gales smashed windows, tore down power lines, throwing entire communities into darkness on Christmas Eve, unroofed buildings, interrupted telephone and rail communication and drove many small boats and ships upon the rocks,
where they sank.

BURN BODY OF MAN WHO KILLED FIVE

Identity Of Persons Who Desecrated Grave Remains Mystery

Damariscotta, Maine—The burning of John Snow's body Tuesday in the home of three of the five persons whom he shot and killed last Saturday remained a mystery Wednesday, so far as the identity of those who participated in the affair was concerned. The county authorities, after putting back in the lonely farm grave
the charred bones taken from the burned cottage in Jefferson, were non-committal as to whether they would pursue an active inquiry to determine who was responsible.

Barred from the village cemetery,
Snow's body had been buried on the farm adjoining the cottage where his wife, her aunt and her grandmother had lived, and where he killed them and himself after driving from Whitefield, a few miles away, where he had shot the wife and son of Deputy Sheriff Jewett. Long before daylight Tuesday the casket was dug up, the cover pried off and the body taken to the cottage. Apparently Xeroesone was sprinkled about and the house was set on fire. It was several hours later that the authorities were notified and found the grave empty and the bones of the murderer in the ashes where the house had stood.

8 Despondents Seek Death On Christmas Day

By Associated Press
New York—Despondency seemingly made more unbearable by the scenes of Christmas cheer on all sides,
caused eight persons to attempt suicide during the holiday, police said.
Four men inhaled gas, one woman leaped from a roof, another woman threw herself beneath a subway train, the official records state. Five died immediately and the others are said to be in a critical condition.

"Those who left notes explaining their acts all referred to the apparently carefree spirit of the people they saw on the streets going to their Christmas dinners, and said that this made them realize their own troubles
more than ever before.

FOUR MURDERS MAR CHRISTMAS IN BLUE GRASS

Shootings In Perry-co Take Toll
Of Four Lives Over
Holidays

By Associated Press
Hazard, Ky.—Perry-co's toll from Christmas shootings Wednesday stood at four dead, one in a dying condition
from bullet wounds, and a sixth man in a serious condition in a hospital here. Those killed were William Smith, deputy sheriff; a man named Hays, J. D. Matthews, a barber he lived to have come here from Evansville or Logansport, Ind., and John Richmond, a Negro. Jerry Dunn is thought to be fatally wounded and the condition of Dennis Phillips is doubtful.

Henry Smith was killed Christmas
Eve in a shot at the home of Phillips, near Glomwar where the officer had gone to quell a disturbance.
Phillips, wounded by Smith, escaped,
but later surrendered. Meantime reports of Smith's death reached here
and Deputy Sheriff Smith, Davidson and James Witt started to Phillips' home. As the trio of deputies passed through Carlsburg, a fire cracker was said to have been exploded at their feet. Believing they had been fired on, the officers were said to have directed a volley into a store operated by Dunn. A bullet passed through the storekeeper's body and struck Matthews, killing the latter. When firing ceased a sinner of the building
disclosed the body of Hays.

Richmond, the fourth man slain,
was killed Christmas Day. James Workman was reported to have killed
him with a shotgun when the victim attempted to enter Workman's home
after the latter had told him to stay away.

Phillips was killed Christmas Day. James
Workman was reported to have killed

AMERICANS HONOR UNKNOWN WAR DEAD

By Associated Press
Paris—Large numbers of Americans, both tourists and residents of France, decorated the graves of nearly 1,500 unidentified American soldiers to military cemeteries of France and Belgium on Christmas Day. In each instance the most prominent Frenchmen
of the locality escorted the Americans to the cemetery and assisted in placing the wreaths of holly and flowers. The cemeteries thus visited include those at Belleau Wood, Serin-
gnes, Romagne, Montfaucon, Thiaucourt-Sous-Suresnes, and Vaerghem, Belgium.

GOVERNOR WILL APPOINT BREITENBACH SUCCESSOR

By Associated Press
Madison—It was unofficially reported Wednesday that Governor Blaine will appoint Joseph Padway of Milwaukee as judge of the Milwaukee
circuit court to succeed Judge Otto Brei-tenbach. Others suggested for the post are:
Thomas J. Mahan, W. C. Quick and
J. E. Lahr, all of Milwaukee. The governor is expected to announce his choice within a few days.

SISTER IDENTIFIES VICTIM OF FLAMES

By Associated Press
Superior—Oscar Wickman, 37, Virginia, Minn., who with two other men
John Deior, 55, and John Deior, 40, was burned to death in a fire Monday night at 515 Ogden ave., was positively identified by a sister Tuesday. Coroner Z. A. Downs announced Tuesday night.

A brother living in Minneapolis has been notified and is expected to arrive in Superior Wednesday to arrange for the funeral. Up to an early hour Wednesday morning the other two men had not been positively identified.

Papers found in the shack and in the clothing of the man thought to be John Deior gave no trace of any living relatives. A letter to John Deior thought to be the third man, from Graftsbury, Wis., was found and Coroner Downs noted that it was from a man named Deior.

dison (N. J.) boy acquitted about a year ago of the murder of a little Janet Lawrence and subsequently taken into the home of Monell Sayre, wealthy church member, is causing a stir in the little town. Some members of Grace Episcopal Church have told Sayre never to bring the boy into church. Sayre will protect the boy, ly.

FORMER GREEK PREMIER SHUNS PUBLIC HONOR

Venizelos Asks Secret Landing
To Avoid "Triumphant Homecoming"

Athens—Former Premier Venizelos
who is leaving Marseilles for Athens
on Dec. 25, has requested Colonel Plastiras to prevent a public reception
on the ground that it is undignified
the statesman's homecoming should assume "a triumph in public character," which would injure the purpose of his return. In case his wishes cannot be carried out, M. Venizelos asks that he be landed at a secret port from which he proposes to motor to a night conference with Colonel Plastiras on the outskirts of Athens.

Former Premier Venizelos has received a telegram from Plastiras in which the latter advises the liberal party to proceed with election of their leader tomorrow as he cannot accept the honor owing to the temporary nature of his sojourn in Greece. Nevertheless liberal circles hope that Venizelos eventually can be persuaded to form a government despite the fact that he has assured the country his return will only be temporary and that he is coming to act as a guide
and adviser in the political crisis.

The reunion of the Greek nation is regarded as a difficult task which only a politician of Venizelos's abilities can perhaps achieve. Many observers think that he is going to render his country such a service, now impels
him to come back to her at the present moment.

BOBO TAKES PURSE WHEN MATE SLEEPS

transient, was haunted by an unseen Yuletide fiend. He was afraid to sleep alone and so enlisted the services of Gus Anderson as a bed partner. Early Tuesday morning Anderson awoke to discover that his partner was missing and also a pocketbook containing more than $50. Hagen was captured by Patrolman Gust Rheinstrom early Wednesday morning and according to the officer, the pocketbook alleged to be the property of Anderson was found in his pocket. Hagen will be arraigned in municipal court Wednesday on a charge of robbery.

G.O.P. Lawmakers Must Make Up For Squandered Time

Republican Congressmen Have Accomplished Little And Face
Defeat In 1924 Ballot

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.
Washington—Thus far congress has run true to form. It has done nothing before Christmas. It will do little more till after New Year's. After that there will be talk—and maybe action some time in mid-summer in the middle of the campaign in a desperate effort to make a showing of some kind.

Judging by the letters that are coming to Washington, congress is losing prestige daily with the mass of the people and there are signs of a political upheaval which may sweep out of power Democrats and Republicans who are now in office. Ambitious rivals in both parties are getting ready for the primary campaigns in the spring. If congress fails to satisfy the demand of the public for positive action on pending problems,
a number of new faces will surely be seen in the next senate and house.

The insurgents in the Republican ranks have made the task of leadership almost impossible but the country isn't interested in excuses but in performance. The rank and file of the Republican membership is aware of this weakness and the demands for a party caucus or conference on nearly everything are beginning to develop.

The Republican party is in transition. The leaders know it but policy has yet furnished a formula that will make the party function smoothly.
The spectacle of a Republican chairman of senate finance committee admitting publicly that tax revision—
the paramount measure—can only be accomplished by the use of some conservative Democratic law with the Republicans not resisted by the old-fashioned party men who remember well how the Republican machine used to operate and how under similar conditions
the power of the party to compel discipline and put through administration measures was unquestioned.

For six years the Republicans will have been in control when the present congress expires. When the electorate votes in November, 1924, it will choose a new congress. Political history furnished abundant evidence of the way things go when there is a popular demand for legislation and that demand isn't satisfied. There are many Republicans who admit privately that if tax revision fails, some congress doesn't show anything conservative in the way of achievement in the next few months, the chances of Republican control will go glimmering. They are beginning to hope that Mr. Coolidge will be strong enough to pull congress through—or to put it another way, that the Democrats will nominate a weak candidate for the presidency. The outstanding fact is that congress is not getting anywhere—and shows at the moment
little sign of arriving at an agreement on anything. The handwriting on the wall has been disclosed. After the holiday recess, the Republican leadership will attempt to rally its forces
in a final attempt to make a record.
That will be the time for public opinion to indicate to congress again just what it wants done.

ATTEMPT RE-TRIAL OF GIRL'S SLAYER

By Associated Press
Morristown, N. J.—Editors are being made by Francis Kluge, who was acquitted of the murder of Janet Lawrence, a school girl.
County Prosecutor James H. Bolton has filed with the Morris-co clerk an application for re-trial of the trial as a preliminary step.

The prosecutor said Wednesday that the jury had been summoned from the wrong county and therefore Kluge would not be in jeopardy twice for the same offense, in the legal sense, if he should be tried again.
After his acquittal, Kluge was taken under the patronage of Monell Sayre, wealthy Madison, N. J., banker who last Friday filed papers for his adoption. On Sunday Mr. Sayre stated that the paper and vestment of Grace Episcopal church of Madison had closed the church to the boy
because of his past. This was later denied.

FEW YOUNG MEDICS ATTRACTED BY NAVY

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Graduates of medical, dental and pharmaceutical schools are finding the opportunities of civil life so attractive that the medical department of the navy is having increased difficulty in getting suitably trained personnel for its work.
"It is apparent," Surgeon General
E. R. Starr said, "that the inducement offered by the navy are not sufficient to attract the young physician. It seems, therefore, that some legislative action will be necessary in the near future if the medical corps of the navy is to be recruited up to the strength for which appropriation was made by congress, or even if the vacancies occasioned by resignation, retirement and death are to be filled."
Health conditions generally in the navy during the fiscal year were "better than average," the report said.
The death rate of 8.23 per 1,000 was "the lowest the navy ever had" and admissions to the sick list also were unusually low.

MENASHA ADVISED TO CLOSE ELECTRIC PLANT. BUY POWER

Cheaper To Buy Power Than Enlarge Plant, Railroad Commission Says

Citizens of Menasha are considerably agitated over an order issued by the Wisconsin railroad commission last week relative to the condition of the municipal power plant and the need for more power. The order was first interpreted as a suggestion to the city to junk its plant and purchase power from the railroad. It was then interpreted as a suggestion to the city to enlarge its plant. Now, after the commission's letter, now issued, that the commission did not urge that the plant be junked.

The road commission's experts, as signed to study the power situation at Menasha, said that it would be cheaper for the city to purchase power than to enlarge its present plant.

According to the most recent interpretation of the order, the commission also suggested that the municipal plant be retained for use in case of an emergency.

There has been considerable complaint in Menasha, it is said, because of the failure of the municipal plant to furnish adequate power.

NOT AN ARREST TO MAR QUITE OF CHRISTMAS DAY

"It was a quiet Christmas," was the report given out at the local police station on Wednesday. Not a drunken man, or carousal, or brawl or fight to disturb the public peace. From all appearances, any of the old-fashioned boisterous Christmas celebrations if there were any, must have occurred under the cover of secrecy. The police, however, received one patrol call to a home, but the affair proved to be nothing more than a "family squabble."

FALSE ALARM MIXED WITH TWO FIRE CALLS

Three alarms were answered by the fire department Monday evening, all within about four and a half hours. The last call, received at 6:15 in the evening, was a false alarm. It was turned in from the alarm box at State and Franklin, but the offender was not apprehended.

An automobile belonging to Fred Tilley, 631 Spring-st., caught fire from defective wires at about 4:40 in the afternoon. The chief's car responded to the call. The damage was not serious. A chimney fire occurred at 5 o'clock at a residence at 649 Story-st., owned by Joseph Meyer and occupied by Joseph Strobel.

The department had a quiet day on Christmas, and no fires arising from Christmas tree hazards were reported.

TWO CARS SLIGHTLY DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Two automobiles were damaged in a collision at 11:45 Monday morning at the corner of Drew and Washington-sts. A Dodge car, belonging to Peter Vanderveure, Little Chute, going east on Washington-st. collided with a Ford sedan driven by Miss Dorothy Adair, 842 Prospect-st., proceeding north on Drew-st. The right rear wheel of the Ford sedan was damaged, a tire punctured and a fender bent. A fender and the frame of the Dodge car were bent.

NEED COOPERATION TO OBTAIN RESULTS

That one person cannot do much toward civic improvement, but that if the whole community or one organization will start behind some desired plan, much can be accomplished, declared Robert Connolly, city engineer, in addressing the Lions club Monday noon at its regular meeting in Conway hotel. He also discussed past and future civic problems that the city has and will be called upon to meet and told what the Lions club might do for civic improvement. At the meeting the club decided to sponsor a Welsh concert company which will appear in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Feb. 4.

Parties in County Institutions Help Pass Time For Inmates

The much celebrated day is over. Christmas is but a memory for another eleven months.

The parties in the churches went off well and each child and grown-up added his bit to the general festivity of the occasion. In practically every church there was a splendid musical service and about the streets.

Through the efforts of the Good Fellows and the welfare agencies, the homes of Appleton's unfortunate families were made glad. Baskets of food which contained ample provision for a bounteous meal were delivered to each of them.

At the county institutions, Christmas dinners were served to all who spent the holidays there. A holiday service was provided at the county jail by members of the Baptist church. A Christmas dinner was provided by the county and a small Christmas tree was trimmed for the four who are in the jail. At the county asylum, a small tree was trimmed in each ward. The inmates were given candy, nuts and gifts. A special dinner was provided for them. At the workhouse, a turkey dinner was given to the three men who are there.

PARTY FOR AGED

The city home was visited by various agencies. Mrs. Charles Reinick and Mrs. J. Henry Harbeck brought the boxes from the German Ladies Aid society. Mr. and Mrs. George Lausman remembered each of the inmates with a box as did Shamrock troop of Girl Scouts. The latter furnished a program on Christmas eve and the intermediate department of the Congregational church entertained at the home on Christmas night under the direction of Mrs. George N. Packard. A moving picture, "The Christmas Carol" was shown and Dr. H. E. Fesbody told the story of how Christopher Columbus received his name.

There were the usual bounteous dinners in homes where guests had gathered for the day. Many playthings which Santa Claus had brought were used throughout the day accompanied by the usual din of children's playthings. An occasional toy in the hands of a too enthusiastic owner or perhaps a friend of the owner gave way under the strain and has to be repaired.

HEAR CHRISTMAS SONGS

Four girls had a donated supper at Appleton Women's clubhouse Tuesday evening and ten stopped at the clubhouse during the evening where an informal program was taking place. The girls opened their Christmas gifts while listening to a new gift Christmas record. Many people sent in Christmas goodies for the girls.

A quiet celebration took place at Riverview sanatorium. Patients who were able spent the holidays at their homes. A tree was trimmed for the bed patients and a special dinner was provided for them.

Midnight masses in the Catholic churches were attended by hundreds of people. Long before the time for the service, the churches were packed to capacity and many people stood throughout the long service.

More automobiles were used on this Christmas day than ever before. The splendid weather before Christmas and on Christmas day made it possible for hundreds of cars to be used throughout the day. Few cars have been put up for the winter.

DUBOLTZ NAMED TO RELIEF BODY

Banks Will Receive Money Beginning Jan. 2 For German Children's Fund

Julius Duboltz of town of Cicero has been made a member of the county committee which will conduct the campaign beginning Jan. 2 for funds for relief of destitute children in Germany. He will supervise the collection of gifts in his township.

Display cards and official receipts books have been mailed out to the 19 banks of Outagamie-co by Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the fund, in readiness for the opening of the campaign.

There is to be no solicitation of funds. All giving will be voluntary on the part of the public and contributions are to be made at the banks, all of which are equipped to give official receipts. Each person is to make his donation at the nearest bank.

Banks where money will be received are: First National, Citizens National, Appleton State and Outagamie County banks, Appleton, Bank of Shiocton, Bank of Black Creek, State Bank of Nichols, First National bank, Dale, Bank of Hortonville and Farmers and Merchants bank, Hortonville; Greenville State bank; Kimberley State bank, Bank of Little Chute; First National Bank of Kaukauna and Farmers and Merchants, Kaukauna; Citizens bank, Deer Creek.

Every cent that is collected will be used for relief work. None will be used for expenses of any kind, as each community is paying its own costs for conducting the campaign. The money will be devoted to the purchase of food, and it will be shipped to Germany free of charge. Giving will start Wednesday, Jan. 2.

LANGENBERG DIRECTS
CHOIR AT MENASHA

J. B. Langenberg acted as director of the choir of 30 voices at the Christmas eve and Christmas day services at St. Patrick church at Menasha. Raymond Peeters was organist and Anson Bauer assisted as a member of the orchestra. It was the first time in the history of the parish that an orchestra assisted the choir. The edifice was crowded at each service.

$218 STOLEN FROM RECREATION HALL;
ARREST SUSPECT

Money Is Taken From Hiding Place After Close Of Business Sunday

The Recreation Hall, College-ave. billiard parlor, was robbed of $218 Sunday night, and police have attempted to place the guilt upon the shoulders of V. B. Janssen, 21, of Little Chute, who has a previous criminal record.

Janssen was arrested by Detective Matthew McGinnis after important circumstantial evidence had been gathered and on the strength of which police expect to have him convicted. The young man denies the crime, however, and was suspected of entering a place of not guilty in municipal court Wednesday afternoon. He was to be arraigned on a charge of larceny rather than burglary, since the hall does not show evidence of having been broken into, but rather that the thief secreted himself in the building before closing time and then broke out.

The theft was committed some time between 1 and 1:30 o'clock, according to Chief George T. Fynn. Witnesses will be brought in to show that Janssen was in the Recreation Hall that night previous to closing time.

John Matthes, one of the proprietors, closed up the place about midnight after secreting about $59.74 in checks and $187.24 in a customary hiding place. Change amounting to about $20 was left in another place. When Frank Glaser, his business partner, arrived early Sunday morning, he found that though the $20 was left intact, the larger amount hidden was gone.

From a chair that was placed against a window, it was evident that the thief had made his exit there. There was no trace of the hall having been broken into.

Janssen was arrested, partly on suspicion because of his previous jail record in the state reformatory in Green Bay to which he was sentenced for two years for a robbery in a depot at Little Chute. Finger prints on the window pane and the marks of a rubber heel left on the seat of a chair were also used by the police in identifying Janssen as the alleged thief. The young man had removed the rubber heels from his shoes after he got back to his room that night, police say. They also profess to have evidence that Janssen was seen to enter the basement at about 11:45 that night.

AUTOMOBILE HIT WHEN
IT GETS IN CAR'S PATH

An automobile owned by Peter A. Ebben of Little Chute, was damaged slightly Tuesday evening when it got into a street car's path at the corner of College-ave and Drew-st. The occupants were unhurt.

Ebben intended to turn south on Drew-st. but went past the intersection and turned around so as to return to it. The street car was approaching but Ebben went across the rails in front of it on the last lap of his circle and the two collided. The motor-man had his car almost at a standstill at the time, thus preventing a serious crash. A lens was broken in the street car headlight and a fender of the Ebben machine was bent.

Two Cars Collide

Two Fords, one a truck and the other a roadster, Wednesday noon collided at the corner of Cherry and Lawrence-sts. The truck is owned by Elbert F. Grizmachner, Mukwonago, while the roadster belongs to the Kools Manufacturing Co. of Appleton. A front wheel and part of the box on the truck was broken, while the roadster apparently was undamaged. No one was injured.

STANDARDIZATION IS SOUGHT BY SHIPPERS

Standardization of the whole cooperative shipping system was set as a goal for the managers of shipping associations of the county who held a meeting Monday in the office of R. A. Amundsen, county agent. Those present besides Mr. Amundsen were George Weibing, Hortonville, Route 2; Fred Zwickler, 852 Lawrence-st., Appleton; H. H. Jack, Route 1, Hortonville; Albert Buboltz, Route 1, New London; Fred Bloom, Seymour; Arnold Stephanie, Route 4, Black Creek; George Tennie, Greenville; Gustave Schroeder, Center.

The shipping manager agreed upon standard form for their annual reports. Hitherto this was not in practice, and consequently no true comparison could be made. Eventually the whole system will be standardized. The annual reports are now being prepared. The shipping associations represented at the meeting Monday do about 75 per cent of the livestock shipping in the county.

OUR SUPER-PROGRESSIVES AND RUSSIA

We read that some of our super-progressives in the senate are going to put the state department on the rack when congress re-convenes and make it prove the genuineness of the documents it has published revealing Russian red soviet revolutionary propaganda in this country. They are in danger of letting their credulity get the better of them. If there is any proving to be done it should be up to the ones whose conspiracy against the United States has been brought to light.

It will strike most persons as peculiar, we think, to say the least, that any United States senator should hesitate to accept the word of the government he is serving in an incident of this kind. The state department is entirely competent to deal with an organization like the communist Third Internationale and with it the soviet government which for all practical purposes is one and the same thing. We have had in recent years too much interference by the senate in the conduct of foreign affairs. It has amounted, we think, to a usurpation of the powers that constitutionally belong in the executive branch of government.

However this may be, our super-progressives will not place themselves in a favorable light with the American people if they attempt to badger the state department in its praiseworthy work of showing up the Russian reds and protecting the United States against their insidious and obnoxious purpose to undermine our institutions. They would appear to much better advantage if they showed a little more confidence in their own government and less in a government that has made itself an outlaw among nations, and is unfit to have any relationship with political, commercial or financial. It is our privilege to let the reds manage Russia as they will, and it is also our right to insist that they accord us the same privilege.

IS ANOTHER RENAISSANCE DUE?

It may be that the period through which we have been passing is but a little understood preliminary to a new and tremendous outburst of intellectual, esthetic and moral achievement.  The modern world began with a renaissance that represents in many fields the high water marks of human conquest. May it not be possible that a second renaissance, wholly different in form and content, but equally beneficent in its results, is in the making?

The foregoing from the annual report of President Nicholas Murray Butler to the trustees of Columbia university. It expresses ideas which are in the minds of many contemplative men and women. The world is moving, as Mr. Butler says. The great unrest which pervaded the whole world for several years, before the war, as well as since, must be the initial outcropping of a new movement for better results.

While it is true that the human family, or part of it, does retrograde at times, or that part of it is always atavistic, and while it is true that progress and recession move in cycles, we like to believe that mankind continues to go forward.
There can be no doubt that a renaissance of republicanism is new developing. For the moment it looks, in spots, as though republicanism is curbed, and as if the democratic objects for which the allies fought in the great war are thrown aside.

It is the same with the agitation and propaganda which infringe on personal liberty and on liberty of conscience. The swing generally tends from one extreme to the other before the even course is found.

MR. FORD ON ELECTION-YEAR TRADE

In declining to run for the presidency and giving his support to President Coolidge, Mr. Henry Ford wrote wisely in regard to business during the campaign year. We can have good business if we resolve to have it.

"Some people," stated Mr. Ford, "seem disturbed over the conditions which business will face during the presidential year. Of course, there must be an election. But there is no reason why business should be disturbed by it," and so on.

We fool ourselves when we believe that business cannot be normal during a national political campaign. We hypnotize ourselves with a silly delusion. We do not use our common sense. Commercial and financial conditions are better than they have been at any time since the close of the war. Next year should be better, commercially, than this.

It is a mistake to put ourselves in the wrong frame of mind. Excellent though conditions are, we can destroy them by thinking that things are not right. We should go ahead and do business.

WAGES AND LIVING COSTS

The State Industrial commission in its monthly report says that wages in Wisconsin for November averaged seven per cent larger than for the same month one year ago. At the same time, it says, the cost of living has increased four per cent in this period, so that wages appear to be more than holding their own in competition with living costs. We do not think there will be a disposition to question the accuracy of the commission's figures, since we know it to be particularly concerned with the welfare of labor.

There was a very small decline in employment in all lines, while in manufacturing it was negligible. This and the wage average indicate a healthy condition of industry throughout the state. If we could have these facts supplemented with greater economy in public expenditures and a reduction in taxation, there would be comparatively little to complain about, except, of course, by our politicians at office filling time.

SELECTION OF IMMIGRANTS

Immigration is to be a problem with us for some time. How many foreigners we should admit as prospective citizens, what class of foreigners we should accept, and so on, are debatable questions.

Secretary of Labor Davis recommends the enactment of an alien code. Among his suggestions is one concerning which all of us are agreed. He favors "selection and inspection abroad to avoid the return to the land whence they came of large numbers of prospective immigrants after they arrive at our ports."

That is a humane idea. It is heart-breaking for those who come to this country in high hope to be turned back, probably penniless. We should prevent the unacceptable from leaving their native lands.

MAKE THE LAW HUMANE

Senator Cope land of New York has introduced a bill in congress providing that wives of American citizens should be admitted to the United States notwithstanding exclusion specifications, in the immigration or naturalization laws. The measure is to be reported to the senate almost immediately on the reassembling of congress after the holidays.

Many instances have been reported to senators and representatives of the inhuman separation of members of families by technical interpretation of existing laws. The Cope land bill concerns the generally accepted American ideals of justice, and should be passed.

Mr. Sam Raddish of Los Angeles was called as a master, and well he had to be, for as a Jew, Harvard professor is trying to teach his apostle to talk, which is harder than making talkers to talk.

Health Talks

THE PRICE OF DOUBT

There are still a few people who profess to believe it is unwise for a layman to study health, that his gropings will have a morbid or depressing effect upon his health. There is an atom of truth in that, combined with several atoms of something else. The truth is that the layman had better "lay off" the study of diseases and symptoms and remedies. But I have yet to meet the layman who has been harmed by a study of the ways of health. The trouble with the folk who imagine it is bad for the layman to read health stuff is that they do not understand what health is—they confuse it with liver complaint and the like.

I feel anybody who reads the magazine called Hygeia and gets anything but clean, wholesome and cheering entertainment and instruction out of it, is a man who may keep at work and jolly himself along for a considerable time after a trace of albumin and a few casts have appeared, but it would be a great deal better for his efficiency and longevity if his doctor knew the man had nephritis and was headed that way. Just how much it might be worth to the man, to let his doctor know about the condition and guide him accordingly, is pretty much a matter of view. The fact that chronic nephritis has a way of developing insidiously and not alarming the victim seriously about his health at first, I think it would be worth three dollars a year to any man or woman past 30 to know that no albumin or casts were present. Urinalysis is an essential part of the periodic health examination of anybody past the age of 30 years, but it is a matter of individual judgment for the physician to decide what tests are necessary under this head. As a rule, a microscopic test is necessary only when albumin is present, unless other abnormal findings in the examination indicate the need of a microscopic test.

Recalling what I said in the last talk about health assurance—that I have not tried the medicine myself—I would formulate the rule that after 30 everybody whose health is not the very best it has ever been certainly needs at least an annual physical examination. And from 30 to 50 a man or woman should not only be well but should enjoy health positively. In other words, if your health might conceivably be a little better than it now is, then there can be no question that you need a periodic physical examination, even though you do not believe you need any medical advice.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Lemons Do Not Harm

My 7 year old girl likes to suck lemons. Will they do her any harm? A neighbor warns me.

Answer—No harm: on the contrary, they're rather healthy, being a good source of vitamins and tending to oppose acidosis and maintain a normal alkalinity of the system. I'm trying to sweeten up lemons a little because the neighbors are so too severe on them. But I must add a dash of bitter by saying that lemon juice internally or externally, whether you have your fingers crossed or not, will never reduce anybody or any part of anybody. To be sure, one would have a hard time getting fat on a diet of lemons, but one would never lose even half a lemon on some food value and you can't reduce by taking food.

The Sick Friend

I would like to ask your advice about locating cancer with an X-ray. A friend of mine in the force has felt a soreness in one breast for about ten years. She went to her doctor and he examined her (I was along at the time) and he told her there was nothing wrong, but she still feels the soreness at times and she wonders if an X-ray would show plain.

Answer—No: the X-ray would scarcely show cancer.

No Change

I want to thank you for your good advice given me five years ago. I was then 44 years old and much worked up over the so called change of life as I heard older women discuss it. (Now I am 49 and have passed through the fancied ordeal without a moment of anxiety or any disturbance of health, all due to your common sense instruction and explanation of it all, which set my mind at rest.)

Answer—But a great many of your sex prefer to imagine there is a "change" of life and that it really is a "crisis" and that all sorts of ill health may be attributed to it.

There is a 10-cent overcharge on this bill. I refuse to pay it. It isn't mine; it is the principle of the thing. Well, isn't that the dearest little thing. And it's just what I've wanted for ever so long. But you shouldn't have gone to so much expense.

No I didn't get a hat from John, for I told him I intend to wear last year's. I just detest the styles this winter.

Yes, I got over and ever so many presents. I got a bridge lamp, three new dresses a Mah Jongg set, a $100 check, a platinum diamond ring, etc. etc.—What did you get?

No, I'll admit I didn't get many presents. But I never give any. I'm even with the world.

Well, we did our shopping early this year. So we not only saved our selves the usual fuss and worry during Christmas week, but aren't broke this Christmas.

Yes, the office force chipped in and bought the boss a big leather chair. We believe that employees should reciprocate for the gifts they receive from employer.

We know of one man who found Al Koch's mistletoe ineffective. No body seemed to notice it whenever he stood under the bough. We suggest that next year he fasten a barrel stave or bent stick on his back to protect over his head. A mistletoe sprig dangling from the top should attract some notice.

After Effects

"Some gifts are seemingly about as appropriate as sending a blind man a motion picture machine," exclaimed a disgruntled girl in the First ward two days before Christmas just after opening a package plainly marked to the effect that it was not to be disturbed until Christmas.

Between Christmas and New Year's day is a good time for merchants to teach their employees the touch system on the typewriter so they can touch their bad customers for Christmas bills.

Germany's New Money Plan Is Basis Of Hope

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—Necessity, says an old adage, is the mother of invention. The whole world has been informed in the years since the armistice of the depths of depreciation to which the once proud mark, the monetary unit of the German people, has sunk. It has become of so little value that the lower denominations of currency—such as mere hundreds and thousands—have been wrapped up into packages and used as blocks for children to play with. One German mark used to be worth nearly as much as the American quarter; now there is nothing so small or cheap that the mark could buy it. In the ordinary purchases of articles of necessity the prices must be quoted in hundreds, even thousands of marks.

Such a situation could not last indefinitely, especially since it has been getting progressively worse each month. The German people, faced with the need of doing something to stabilize their currency, have invented a new medium, the Rentenmark. It represents the latest experiment in national finance.

A few weeks ago the German Government issued a decree establishing a new bank of issue, known as the Rentenbank. It has already begun operations but the plan still is regarded as in the experimental stage. The capital of the bank is 3,200,000,000 Rentenmark. The Rentenmark is the new unit. It has the value of 1,250 kilo of pure gold or at the rate of 2700 Rentenmark to one kilo of gold. A kilo or kilogram weighs about 2.2 pounds.

The capital of the Rentenbank is being raised by compulsory levies upon the real property of the German nation. To be recognized as having value and stability all paper currency must have value back of it. The reason that American paper currency is stable is that the people know that gold is piled up in the Treasury to make it good. The trouble with the German mark that there was practically no gold reserve back of it. Therefore the first move in establishing this new currency was to put value back of it. No gold was available, so the Government decree automatically placed a sort of mortgage on practically all of the real estate and other actual property in the country, to the extent of 4 per cent of its value.

One-half of the capital is contributed in this way to the holders of agricultural land which has come to be regarded as the most valuable of all securities in Germany. Holders of city property have been exempted because, by government regulation, rents have been kept on a very low basis. This has reduced the comparative value of the city property and, therefore, it was considered unfair and unnecessary to include such holdings.

Factories and such industrial properties, whether in city or country, however, contribute to the extent of 4 per cent of their value. The owners of these properties turn over bonds which are mortgages upon their holdings to the Rentenbank. These run five years and pay 6 per cent interest.

With these mortgages or liens on the basis of the agricultural and industrial property of the country as a basis

Q. When were nails first used?

M. M. L.

A. There is no date in history fix of value. The Rentenbank is issuing Rentenmark. The holder of a Rentenmark is the owner to the extent of a very small fractional proportion of the general mortgagage on the physical property of the whole country. In the same way, the holder of a $1 bill in American money is owner to that extent of the gold piled in the Treasury.

The new Rentenmark is an effort to give the public confidence in the circulating medium. If they have confidence in the claims of the new establishment that the new paper money actually is secured by the real property of the nation and if the notes are accepted at face value, Germany will have made a long stride back toward financial solidity. It will not be long before it will be working. If the Rentenmark once starts to depreciate, it probably will be difficult to stop it following the path of the old German mark. The next month or two will tell the story.

ing the first use of nails. Up to a century ago they were still exclusively hand made and even as late as 1850 it was a general custom in this country for the nail maker with his forge and anvil to come with the carpenter to make the nails needed in the erection of a building. The first nail making machinery originated in Massachusetts in 1810 to make cut nails from steel or iron plates. The use of cut nails is now greatly reduced by the introduction of machinery and wire nails which came into the United States from Germany in 1878. It was discovered shortly after their introduction that they did not make a great holding power. This defect was overcome in 1882 by Ira Copeland of Whitman, Mass., who conceived the idea of coating them with vegetable gum, the result being to give them even greater holding power than cut nails.

Q. How many countries are members of the League of Nations?

A. Fifty-two countries are members.

Q. In what town were the first Seth Thomas clocks made?

L. A. Seth Thomas clocks were manufactured at Thomaston in Litchfield County, Conn. The town was built up by Seth Thomas, who removed there in 1813, and established his business.

Q. Why do so many Jews wish to go back to Palestine to die? H. N. A. According to a passage of Scripture, Joel 3:2, "the first judgment of the world will take place in the Valley of Jehoshaphat. This valley lies between Jerusalem and the Mount of Olives."

Q. Should a boy be forced to read books that he does not like? E. K. A. If the boy of reading is to be lost forever to the boy, he must not be compelled to read. A juvenile reader needs to be led gently to an understanding of books, in such a way that they will mean to him what they meant to Emily Dickinson, who wrote: "There is no frigate like a book to take us miles away. Or any courser like a page of prancing poetry. Such traverse may the poorest take with oppress of toll; How frugal is the chariot that bears the human soul!"

Q. Where is Baron De Kalb buried?

F. S. B.

A. Baron De Kalb is buried under a monument in the Presbyterian Churchyard in Camden, S. C.

Q. When was the first taxicab used in the United States? W. O. H.

A. The first one in this country was put into operation in New York City on October 3, 1897.

Q. What were the first cast-iron water pipes used in the United States? F. E. W.

A. The first cast-iron water pipe was laid in Philadelphia in 1804. This pipe was obtained from England. The first cast-iron water pipes made in the United States were about 1817.

Q. What is the derivation of the word chestnut? N. L.

A. The word Chestnut, Encyclopedia says that the name chestnut is derived from that of the town of Kastana in Asia Minor. It is also more or less preserved in several languages—as the French, Chataigne and the German, Kastanie.

Q. What interest would one pound receive in the Bank of England? Do other English banks pay the same rate? H. C.

A. The Bank of England establishes a legal rate of interest which is accepted as a standard. It is now about 4 per cent but varies according to conditions. Other banks discount with the Bank of England and, therefore, pay something under the rate of interest set as a standard. They usually pay one-half to one per cent under this Bank of England rate.

Q. Is the Red Cross still offering to help Americans rendered destitute in the Japan earthquake? S. G.

A. The Red Cross says that their assistance in this line will approximate $200,000. Already nearly $50,000 has been expended and $150,000 more is available for the work. If this is not sufficient the amount will be increased.

Q. When did Billy Sunday become an evangelist? H. O.

A. He became an evangelist in 1886. He was a professional baseball player from 1882 to 1890, and assistant secretary of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. from 1891 to 1895.

Q. What wood will make the best imitation of mahogany? G. H.

A. Cherry wood and gum are the two hard woods used most in the manufacture of imitation mahogany.

LODGE NEWS

Children under 12 years of age presented a program of recitations and songs in Eagle hall Christmas night when the lodge had its annual Christmas party. After the program Santa Claus appeared and brought bags of candy, nuts and apples to the children. A large Christmas tree helped decorate the hall. The older members danced after the children had had their program and party.

Miss Florence Ement and Miss May Schweitzer, who spent Christmas with Mrs. Walter Ement and her family, who live in Mooseheart, Ill., will give a report of the Christmas program at Mooseheart at the regular meeting of Women of Mooseheart legion at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. It is also expected that plans will be completed for the trip to Oshkosh Jan. 3 when the local officers and team are to install the newly elected officers of the Oshkosh lodge. The Appleton lodge expects to initiate a class of 14 candidates at the Thursday meeting.

Catholic Order of Foresters will meet at 7:30 Thursday night in the Catholic club. Routine business will be discussed.

ARBUTUS BLOOMING IN PARK FALLS WOODS

Park Falls — The unprecedented mildness of the present season is strikingly attested by the fact that trailing arbutus is beginning to bloom in the north woods. Motoring parties to Sprinkled lake, west of this city, picked quantities of the fragrant blossoms on Sunday. Usually at this time the northern woods are covered with a heavy mantle of snow. A robin was seen here this week, and willow and blue bushes are budding.

A story that demands fairbanks for its interpretation. It is the tale of a missing heir to the throne of a mythical little kingdom in Europe. Doug is the missing heir, of course, but no one would ever suspect it—least of all Doug himself. When we find him at the beginning of the story, an excitement-loving, thrill-craving, adventure-seeking gay young New Yorker, we're totally unprepared for later developments, and his journey to Europe and his capers with royalties and revolutionists is a treat indeed for lovers.

The nightmare incident with which the picture opens is worth the price of admission alone. Imagine Doug in a nightmare! Walking on the ceiling of his bedroom, floating calmly through the air, jumping roofs—just like that! We would rather see him do it than try it ourselves.

The New Blot Theatre is going to have some crowds to take care of while "His Majesty, the American," is the attraction. But they are going to be happy crowds, so our little tip is—join them and see Doug at his best.

"His Majesty, the American," is a swash-buckling drama, replete with thrills. One of the leading stars, George Fennel, plays the part of the slave wife of a pirate captain. In the cast are Sylvia Bremer, Tilly Marshall, Robert McKim, Richard Cummings and Tora Segura.

"His Majesty, the American," is the new Blot Theatre's latest offering. The one and only "thrill" comes to town today and Thursday. The screen at the New Blot theatre and he will save to start in our midst for quite a spell if he is going to give all the folks who will want to see him a chance to gather round.

BY THEIR STRIDE
YOU CAN PICK OUT
MODERN MOTORISTS

Habit Of Dodging Traffic Leaves
Indelible Mark On Driver's Faces

Imagine a motorist out for a walk. You ought to be able to pick him out of a mob of pedestrians. For he acts and looks as different from the regular pedestrian as does the automobile he drives from the horses it tries to run down.

What changed him so? The better-sketcher of traffic, whistles of traffic cops, playing children, crossing pedestrians, stopping street cars, sooting busses, night lights weird signaling, elusive parking spaces, speed traps—and a thousand one other annoyances.

The result is he has developed a singular expression brought on by an entanglement of emotions—a psychological complex peculiar to auto driving. His features are drawn, taut, determined. His eyes are set and straining. Deep lines on either side of his mouth turn down. He is serious.

ON THE ALERT

When he walks down the street, especially in the crowded sections, you will invariably find him looking far ahead, straining, watching, but still going full speed to a predetermined destination. His expression is impatient, yet his eyeballs move incessantly to right and left, as though he feared another motorist passing him.

People coming toward him he seeks to pass to the right, out of habit. By the same token, he speeds up and passes others going his way to the left. New motorists who haven't yet gotten out of their habit of walking, or the despised pedestrians he recognizes by their slippish, undetermined manner of walking.

His is the essence of the jazz age today.

And as he becomes more experienced as a driver, can flash in and out of a dense traffic line without a scratch, can judge distances to within six inches, can beat a street car just as it is stopping, can get away with many a hair-raising stunt any sane driver would refrain from attempting, his face becomes more and more marked and he can, easily be picked out of a crowd more easily.

ISN'T IT SO?

Thus can taxi drivers, for instance, be identified by their nervous, yet carefree expressions, their haphazard appearance and shifting gait.

And just as the man can be identified as a motorist or otherwise, so can the woman be placed in either category. Hers may be a trifle more difficult, because of the expression already imprinted on her features through the lifelong habit of shopping. She still shows the same smiling or frowning so that there is conflict for supremacy between the shopping and the motorist face.

But notice that woman walking along the store windows, her nonchalant yet determined face, her steady pace. That's a mixture of shopping and auto habits, but the auto habit is noticeable, nevertheless. She hugs the curb as it were, not worrying about parking spaces for she drives into a pay station. Her movements are more direct than those of other women. And she goes about her shopping without much attention to the persons about her.

MYSTERY SHROUDS
DEATH OF WOMAN

Indianapolis, Ind. — Another mysterious murder is added to this city's list of unsolved crimes.

Kidnaped by an assailant who took her away in an automobile, Mrs. Helen Weichei, 22, was murdered early the morning of Nov. 23.

Her body was found between the railroad tracks under a bridge near the city's outskirts, by railroad workmen.

Mrs. Weichei, a widow, left her father's home early in the evening preceding the murder. Shortly after midnight a loud scream was heard in a neighborly home.

A neighbor looked from his window and saw a man driving a touring car away. He held one hand on the wheel and the other, the witness said, held some other person.

The woman's hat was found in front of the witness' house. On the bridge, above the spot where her body was found, police picked up a broken strand of pearls. Nearby were the wheel tracks of an automobile, turned toward the guard rail of the bridge. Tire and a few footprints are the only clues.

WINTER COUGHS AND COLDS

With the changeable weather which we have at this season of the year, coughs and colds are very prevalent. Be prepared for them. Have a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND handy and with the first sign of a cough or cold take a dose and prevent a serious ailment. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND has been the standard family cough remedy for over 35 years, bringing prompt relief and when once used you will never be without it. Sold everywhere.

PEDESTRIAN LEARNED
POLICEMAN'S WHISTLE
WAS MEANT FOR HIM

Pedestrians who do not pay any attention to the signals of the traffic officers when on duty down town are just as liable to censure as the automobile drivers, as was demonstrated Saturday evening at the corner of College-ave and Appleton-st.

The officer gave the signal for traffic to move east and west, with the admonition to the drivers to "step on it" to clear the congestion. One man and his wife gave no heed to the signal and began to cross College-ave. They narrowly escaped being hit by one car, and the man turned and shouted threats at the driver. The policeman thereupon took the pedestrian to task, informing him that when traffic was given the right of way, those on foot should heed the order as well as the drivers, and wait until the crossing was cleared before leaving the curb.

BADGER POTATO
GROWERS AGAIN
ARE FACING LOSS

Low Prices For Two Years May Drive Farmers From Raising Spuds

Special to Post-Crescent
Washington — For the third successive season Wisconsin potato growers are looking forward to an unsuccessful season, the Department of Agriculture has reported.

Two years ago when fairly good prices were paid throughout the season, production in Wisconsin was so light that many growers operated at an actual loss. In 1922, with about the largest crop ever grown, prices were almost too low to pay for digging. This season, production in Wisconsin is far below normal, but that for the United States may be above actual requirements, and the outlook is not promising. Under the conditions, it is not surprising that some of the growers are discouraged and are turning their efforts to other crops, department officials said.

Wisconsin's production of potatoes this season will be approximately 25,000,000 bushels, as against 40,670,000 last year. Heaviest yields are in the northern part of the state.

The shipping season for late winter potatoes from Wisconsin is generally considered to open about September 15.

Last year when the extremely low level of 30 cents to 40 cents was reached, growers practically ceased hauling, believing either that the price would go up or that the potatoes were not worth hauling. This season, the price started considerably higher, but declined almost immediately. Bulk stock from the Antigo section, however, was bringing around 40 cents to the farmer, due to its general excellence and its bright, clean appearance. Nevertheless, the growers have hauled comparatively few potatoes since the price reached the 50 cent level, and there is a general feeling that at least a slight improvement must come.

The percentage of stock still in the hands of growers is problematical. Last year with an estimated production of more than 40,000,000 bushels, the state had shipped 7,545 cars up to and including December 2, while this season, with an estimated output of 26 per cent less, the movement has been 5,565 cars to the same date.

Last year the shipments were approximately one car to every 2,000 bushels grown, and, if the same ratio holds good the present season, the total movement should be somewhat more than 13,000 cars. This would indicate 7,500 to 8,000 cars remaining in the state. Although these figures are based upon mere possibilities, they agree closely with the ideas of the best informed growers and dealers in the territory, according to advices from the Federal-State market new office at Waupaca.

As in former years, most shipments are rolled in Chicago, but the Pittsburgh market is a strong rival for Wisconsin stock at the present time. In fact, during a recent week this terminal received almost as many Wisconsin potatoes as did Chicago, and offerings were sold at a better price notwithstanding the difference in freight rates. It is felt by some dealers that, if Wisconsin shipments could receive a wider distribution, the price average for the year would be materially increased.

Cleveland, is president of the society, which has for its chief purposes the prevention of crime, constructive prison reform, aid in rehabilitation of prisoners paroled or released from prisons, and encouragement of more liberal use of probation systems.

The program also includes providing ex-prisoners with surroundings that will prevent them from taking up old associates and protecting them until they are self-supporting, and a fund for taking care of the families of prisoners.

"Daddy" Williams has spent 47 years getting men out of prison, and helping them keep out, directing this work here for the last 14 years. In that time he has helped an average of 150 men a year to obtain work and get a new start. His records show only one backslider.

Neuritis the Nerve-Wrecker

Those who have experienced the agony of a well-developed case of neuritis know its baneful influence upon the entire nervous system. Many sufferers, tortured in mind and body and driven to despair by the ravages of this insidious disease, have finally sought relief through self-destruction.

The first indication of neuritis is usually a sharp, cutting pain in the shoulder, neck, forearm, thigh or leg sometimes accompanied by soreness in the muscles, stiffness in the joints or numbness in the hands or feet.

If you suffer from neuritis, don't experiment. Take Eppa Neuritis Tablets—a treatment that has proven merit in hundreds of stubborn cases. Endorsed by many leading physicians. Guaranteed to be free from narcotics and coal tar products.

14 ELLINGTON COWS
PRODUCE 40 POUNDS
OF FAT IN NOVEMBER

Peter Weiland's Grade Guernsey
Has Production Record
Of 72.1 Pounds

A total of 295 cows were tested in the Ellington Cow Testing association during the month of November and 14 of these produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat, according to the month's report of L. E. Nelson, official tester.

Peter Weiland, R. 1, Hortonville, has the honor of leading the association with "Pink," a grade Guernsey, who made a record of 1,472 pounds of milk testing at 4.9 per cent and 72.1 pounds of butterfat. The second high cow is "Guernsey," a grade Guernsey cow owned by 1,128 pounds of milk testing 4.7 per cent and 53 pounds of butterfat.

The 40-pound cows are owned as follows: E. & M. Breitrick, four cows; John Laird, three; Peter Weiland, Henry Kreutzberg, L. A. Sykes, William Pluger, W. L. Laird, R. Puls and W. C. Schroeder, one each.

John Laird's herd of 11 grade Guernseys produced an average of 709 pounds of milk and 33.9 pounds of butterfat, leading the association. E. & M. Breitrick's herd of 15 registered and grade Guernseys are second with an average of 609 pounds of milk and 39.1 pounds of butterfat. The ten highest herds are as follows:

Owner	Pounds Milk	Test B. Fat
John Laird	709	4.78 33.9
E. & M. Breitrick	609	4.78 30.1
L. A. Sykes	717	3.73 26.7

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. LETTER FROM MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT.

MY DEAR LESLIE:

I wish you would find out for me why it is that John does not answer my letters or the letters of dear Tricilla Bradford, who has written to him for me when I have been too ill to write for myself.

John never neglected me this way before he was married and I certainly do not think he should do it now. I often wonder if either he or you appreciate the fact that I took care of him and ministered to his wants long before he knew there was a girl named Leslie Hamilton in this world.

I wrote him some months ago that I was having my house painted and explained to him the reason I did so was because the one painter in the town was not busy. I also told him it was not convenient for me to pay for it, expecting, of course, he would send a check by return mail.

Although both I and Tricilla Bradford have repeatedly asked him for the money, he has paid no attention to us. I cannot understand it. John was not like this until he married you. Now this last terrible thing that he has done is simply breaking his mother's heart.

He has told you, of course, how I objected to his giving that name to the baby. The honorable baptismal name of John Alden. When I read of it from a clipping I found in the paper, for John knew better than to write me about it. I was so ill that I was not able to leave my bed for a week. To think that my son, the eldest lineal descendant from John Alden has not more pride in his ancestry is unbelievable.

Some one has told me that you are feeling better if I have not heard of your health through either of you for a long time, and I am sure, now that you have had time to think it over with normal and sane brain, you will send the baby to the orphan asylum where it belongs. I cannot understand of what the modern young woman is thinking. What will you do when you have children of your own? Will you give them any less love than you did to this child who has been literally thrust upon you?

I think the whole thing is exceedingly mysterious, and if I didn't have thorough faith in John's ability to select a good girl and that his own common sense combined with his Puritan heritage must keep him from any wrong doing, I should be afraid there was scandal hanging over your head.

However foolish both of you are, I am certain that scandal could not touch me nor mine.

I wish you would tell John that I need the money to pay the painter and will you please write to me when you have disposed of the baby in the proper manner.

Sincerely,
MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

TOMORROW—John Prescott to his mother—A harsh rejoinder.

Adventures Of The Twins

Mister Gobbler's Lesson

Very early in the morning Mister Gobbler opened his eyes.

The sun wasn't up—but it was coming for long fingers of light were snatching away the night mist.

"Gobbie, gobbie, gobbie!" said Mister Gobbler, "this is going to be a grand day. And I'm as hungry as a swordswallower, whatever that is. But I saw it advertised on a fence near the road and the man looked awfully hungry. Gobbie, gobbie, gobbie! Get up, familar! Don't forget the early bird gets the worm."

"Yes, but what does the early worm get?" piped up Lanky Legs, the little turkey boy, opening one eye and then shutting it again.

But like a shot he opened it again, and then the other, and he stared and stared and stared.

"What on earth are you looking at?" asked Mister Gobbler, peevishly. "One would think you'd been brought up on a desert island instead of a respectable homestead beside the homestead. What are you staring at?"

"I was thinking—" said Lanky Legs, blinking his eyes as hard as he could, but he didn't finish his sentence. "Mother! Oh, mother!" he called. "Wake up and look what's around Daddy's neck!"

Mister Gobbler awakened with a start. She'd been dreaming some thing awful about an ax. She was glad to be wakened and find it was only a dream. "Wh—what is it? Why are you awake so early, Lanky? What's the matter? What are you calling me for?"

"Look at Daddy, Mother. Look and see what's around his neck!"

Mister Gobbler looked. And he couldn't keep his face straight at what he saw. She sniggered at him. And that woke up all the other turkeys and after they had had one look, each one turned away his face and sniggered and sniggered.

Mister Gobbler swallowed himself up so and got so red in the face, he looked as though he were going to burst.

"What's wrong with all of you?" he inquired wrathfully. "What is it that is so amusing about me? I'd like to know."

COLONEL TO MECHANIC

Vancouver, B. C. — Vladimir Durovsky, used to be looked up to as one of Russia's military elite, a colonel of the Imperial Russian staff, trusted intimate of the Grand Duke Nicholas, member of the famed Czar's Corps Militaire of St. Petersburg.

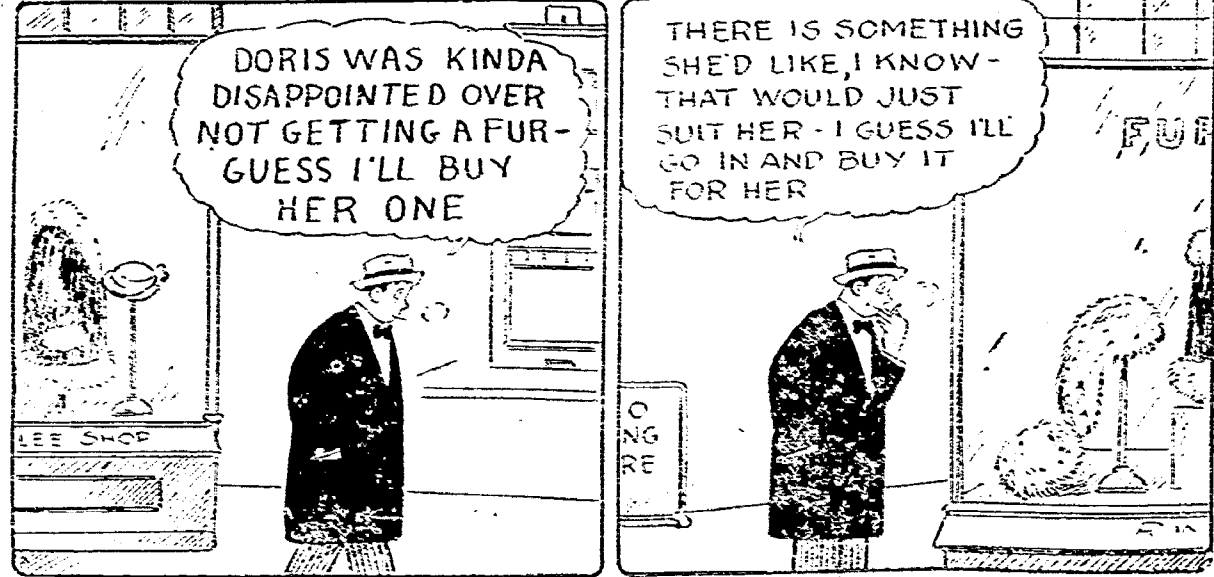

Now Durovsky is looked down upon as a mere apprentice mechanic, working in a strange country, a craft that will provide himself and his wife with bread and lodging.

But the former colonel, as clean and slick as the job he does, is by no means a poor fellow, as he is used to appear at the head of his company, is also studying information that may help him when the call comes from overseas. For he has this hope—for the overthrow of the soviet republic.

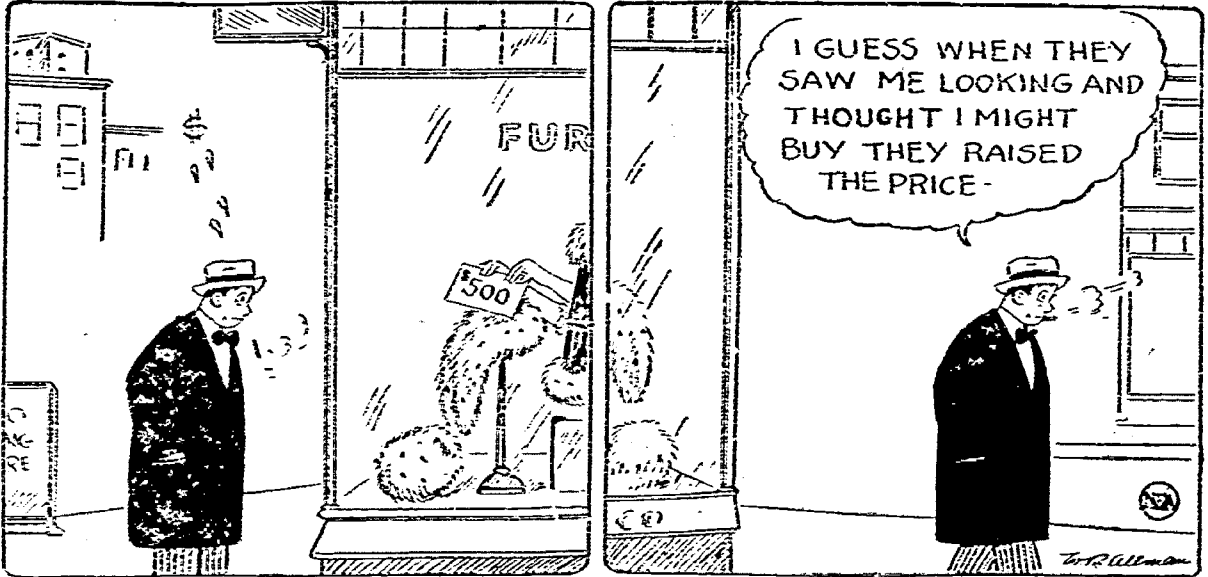

When that time comes he hopes his knowledge of auto engines will help him in the aircraft division of the anti-soviet army.

WISCONSIN LEADS NATION IN VALUE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Over 300 Million Pounds. Of Cheese Produced in Wisconsin In 1922

Madison—Wisconsin dairy products of 1922 had a total value of over $200,000,000, including all types of dairy materials, placing the state above all other states in this respect, according to the annual report for 1922 of State Food and Dairy Commissioner J. Q. Emery, which was made public on Thursday.

Some of the interesting items in the report follow:

"There were 293,732,969 pounds of cheese produced in factories other than cottage, skim milk, primost, cooked, buttermilk and cream cheese, valued at $53,007,048.03. There were 4,495,932 pounds of cottage, skim milk, primost, cooked, buttermilk and cream cheese produced, valued at $214,956.10, and 308,117 pounds of farm made butter valued at $47,335.55.

"Upon the generally accepted theory that quality in commercial butter determines its price, the quality of Wisconsin butter outranks that of all the states bordering on Wisconsin and the average of the entire United States as shown by records of the United States department of agriculture.

"There were 423,100,993 pounds of condensed products, consisting of evaporated, condensed, powdered and concentrated milk and evaporated cream, valued at $34,367,327.26, and 25,829,994 pounds of evaporated, concentrated, powdered and condensed skim milk and compounds, valued at $382,562.14.

"The value of milk used in the manufacture of malted milk, and other similar products was $539,967.38.

ICE CREAM WORTH $6,165,325

"There were 3,950,556 gallons of ice cream produced valued at $5,193,325.64.

"It is estimated there were 960,521,235 plants of milk produced, used for family consumption other than that furnished cheese factories, butter factories, condensaries and ice cream plants, valued at $23,818,937.05.

"Skimmed milk was produced to the estimated amount of 2,550,955,939 pounds, valued at $7,142,676.77, and whey to the estimated amount of 2,547,407,785 pounds, valued at $3,594,370.45.

"The estimated amount and value of milk and cream shipped to St. Paul, Chicago, Minneapolis, Dubuque and other points outside of Wisconsin was 250,394,659 pounds, valued at $4,118,291.92."

INSPECTORS KEPT BUSY

Close inspection of all cheese and butter factories and creameries was made during the year, the commission reports. Inspectors of the state department made 3,269 inspections of cheese factories, 2,200 inspections of butter factories, 56 inspections of condensaries, 561 inspections of receiving stations, 170 inspections of city and village milk supplies, 1,227 inspections of farm dairies and responded to numerous calls for inspection and instruction relative to a great variety of subjects of which no records were made, the report declares.

CANADA BOOSTS ITS NEWSPRINT OUTPUT

Production For Nine Months Is 18 Per Cent Greater Than Year Ago

Ottawa—Newsprint production in Canada amounted to 944,820 tons in the nine months ended Oct. 1, according to a report issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics. This was an increase of 145,447 tons or 18 per cent compared with the same period last year.

The Dominion, the report points out, is rapidly reducing the lead of the United States in newsprint production. The output of the United States was only 184,397 tons more than Canada in the first nine months of 1923, as against 270,245 tons greater output for the same period of 1922. In September Canada produced 102,336 tons while the United States mills produced 110,209 tons.

At the present rate of increase in another year, it is believed, Canada will be ahead of the United States in newsprint output. The supply of pulp wood is diminishing in the eastern states, while Canada possesses almost unlimited resources of pulp wood and waterpower to exploit it.

Exports of newsprint in the first nine months of 1923, the report sets forth, amounting to $32,222,076, valued at $63,277,265, or practically 90 per cent of the total production. The United States was the chief buyer, taking $21,738 tons of 27 per cent of the total export. The remaining 17,434 tons were shipped mainly to New Zealand, Australia and South Africa.

MENASHA ADOPTS LAW TO REGULATE RADIO SETS

Regulation of radio may in time become as common as regulation of street traffic. An ordinance regulating radio stations was introduced in the common council of Appleton's neighbor city, Menasha last week. Among the provisions in the proposed ordinance are the following:

No radio receiving station is to be erected without a permit from the electrical inspector; owners of any station heretofore erected within 20 days report to the inspector regarding the location. The sum of $1.15 is to be paid for permit and inspection; a fine of $10 to $50 or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days is provided for violations.

High School Students Have Novel Ideas For Appleton City Planning

Classes In Democracy At High School Make Study Of City's Needs For Development

Appleton high school students are thinking of the city and they have made their own city plans in each class in "Problems of Democracy." The classes do not always agree on minor details, but have considered the vision from the standpoint of public vision of land zoning, civic center, playgrounds, parks, water frontage, streets, housing and railroads.

One class would have all the new divisions of the city run east and west and north and south with no diagonal roads such as State-st. Another class would have all new sections with irregular roads, developed according to conditions, with thought for landscape garden effects. In the business district one class would have the blocks containing 2000 square feet, with lots 120 feet deep and the frontage to suit the need. The other class wanted alleys in each business district, the lots 50 by 120 feet. They would have the golf links reserved in the city limits, and new land opened up near the junior high schools.

The heavy industrial section of the city would be established by the class in that section bounded on the north by State-st, on the east by Douglas-st and on the west by any link. The classes would have the industrial expansion on the northeast section of the city stopped, but would not molest those already there. The commercial and light manufacturing district extends, according to the classes' plan, over that district bounded on the west by State-st, on the east by Drew-st, on the north by Atlantic-st and on the south by Lawrence-st. A similar district would be established in the Fourth ward bounded by South River, Madison, Fremont and Lake-sts.

The students would restrict the height of all buildings to five stories.

LOCATE SMALL STORES

A novel way of locating the neighborhood stores was introduced in one class which favored having stores in the residential districts providing they were so located that they would be three blocks from any similar store. All districts not designated for selling class were set aside for residences by the classes.

Only one of the classes made a decision about the civic center. It was placed in the area bounded by Market, Appleton, Morrison and Drew and Water-sts.

The students decided that in their model city, the houses should be 15 feet from the sidewalk and 15 feet from all boundaries. The house should not be built to cover more than one half of the lot and the garage should be 15 feet from the house at least. If it is connected with the house, it should be made of fireproof material. The classes were for the strict enforcement of all building code qualifications and for the adherence to the principles of fire prevention.

The students decided that the city needs a well planned drive connecting all of its parks. The students would connect Pierce park and Alicia park with a garden. They favor acquiring the ravine near Maple Grove-st and west of North Division-st for additional parks.

They would have the city park remain as it is but would run a side walk through from Harris to Elsie roads-sts. Jones park would remain the same. Pierce park would be connected to Alicia park. Erb park should be reserved for picnic grounds. It was held. The students would have the Maple Grove-st ravine kept as a wild spot rather than a cultured park while the North Division-st ravine would be a beauty spot that could be seen by persons entering the city on the trains.

CLEAN UP RIVER FRONT

Municipal Post houses, a river drive banks free from refuse and smoke consumers for the mills are mentioned in the river frontage plans. On class took a drastic step in its recommendations stating that the mills should clean up their places, and beautify them by July 1. All the students favored prohibiting dumping refuse into the river and of having the hillsides kept free from refuse and junk. The classes were emphatic about the need for smoke consumers to do away with much of the smoke nuisance. The river drive is planned to begin at Alicia park following the river to Drew-st and to commence again at North-st and continue along the river to State-st. The class favored the building of two municipal boat houses, one at the foot of College-ave and the other at the lower end of Pierce park.

A rather novel idea was developed in regard to playgrounds. The students would have a small section reserved in the center of each block in new additions for playgrounds for small children. They advocate playgrounds under supervision for each school with at least five of the following kinds of apparatus: sand boxes, giant slides, swings, tower ladders, slide, volleyball court, skating rink and basketball diamond, basketball backboards, merry-go-rounds, trapeze, rings and bars.

ATHLETIC FIELD

The students want a municipal field which will be equipped for football, tennis, baseball, the diamonds for the latter sport to be flooded for skating in the winter. They want a baseball diamond in Erb park. They want more equipment in Jones park, including a wading pool with clean water. They want a new comfort station in that park and the skating rink improved. There is a demand also for a recreation center where there will be tennis courts, bowling alleys, pool rooms, gymnasium, swimming pool, music hall and auditorium.

The student plans disagree in the matter of streets, some wanting the streets to take a natural course and others demanding that the streets run north and south, east and west, forming right angles with each other. They want a 12-foot boulevard on each side of the new streets so that the streets may be made wider in the near future if need be. They would like to make Second-ave a 40-foot boulevard from Lemmon-st to Thompson-st and to have a similar boulevard from the Cherry-st bridge to the Menasha-st and to College-ave. Students propose to start numbering at Oneida-st and College-ave, with the numbers running both directions and 100 numbers to a block. They would put sign posts at the corners to mark the streets. The arterial highways would be state highways and street car line streets. All wires would be run underground except the trolley wires.

Railroad crossings were given consideration and a union depot was advocated. One advocated elevation of tracks and depression of streets at grade crossings.

All these decisions were made by the students as the result of much discussion in class. Reports and surveys on the conditions which exist were given before they agreed upon what they thought should be done to make Appleton a more ideal place in which to live. The students realize that all these things cannot come at once but they feel that they are the things which are worthwhile talking about until some action is taken.

HOW STATE RANKS IN DAIRY WORLD

Among Wisconsin's darts and other rankings, reported in the annual report of State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery are the following:

Wisconsin ranks first among the states in the volume of milk produced—10 per cent of the nation's production.

Wisconsin ranks first in total production of cheese of all kinds. Approximately two thirds of all the cheese produced in the nation is made in Wisconsin.

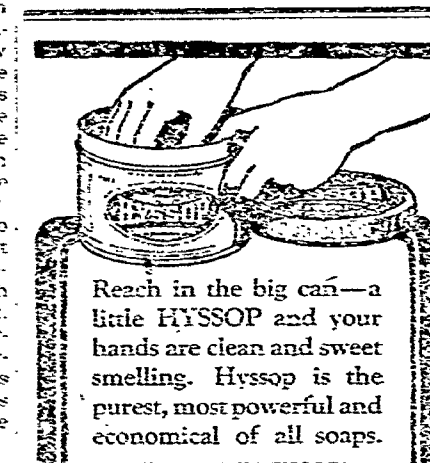

Wisconsin ranks first in production of American cheese, producing approximately three fourths of the country's supply.

Wisconsin ranks first in production of Swiss, brick and Muenster cheese and second in production of Limburger cheese.

Wisconsin ranks second as a butter producing state, 11 per cent of all the creamery butter coming from Wisconsin creameries.

Wisconsin ranks first in the production of condensed products, producing upwards of one-fourth of the nation's supply.

Wisconsin ranks eighth in the cream production.

Six Classy Fighters Scheduled To Battle In Preliminary Menu

'Washie' Hendricks' Nose Healed; Jack Brunkhorst's New Find Meets Meissner's Partner

If New Year's day may be looked on as an indication of what is to come all through the year, the next twelve months bids fair to be a banner year in the annals of Appleton fight history. Not only will the Jan. 1 card here bring together two of the classiest waterweights in the state when Jack Brunkhorst meets 'Washie' Hendricks, but six fast men are expected to be in the preliminary

HOPPIES WEINERS DROP PIN MATCH TO NEW LONDON TEAM

Appleton Five Cops First Two Games But Specials Run Up Big Total

Hoppies Weiners of Appleton Monday afternoon dropped their bowling match with the Elite Specials at New London, 2493 to 2555. The Elite Specials had been outbowling every team in their league, and looked on as the new world to conquer. They went six rounds with Frank Schumaker of Manitowish, Eddy has been kept under cover and was not allowed to fight in public until he should be pronounced fit. In his daily gym workouts he shows that he is far from being an inexperienced fighter, however, and can hit and block like a veteran. In meeting Schumaker he will buck up against a finished boxer. Frank is one of Meissner's training partners and practically every gymnasium. He will have the advantage in weight also, but the doctors give the two men an even chance and promise a fast and furious fight.

It is said that Willie Hoppe was so excited at winning the billiard title again that he actually stopped to inquire the name of his opponent.

Accounts of the match reveal that Mr. Hoppe "babied" the balls. We imagine this is where the nurse strike comes in.

There should be a state law prohibiting able-bodied young men from wasting their time trying to win the billiard championship from Hoppe.

While it may be true that Hoppe did not fiddle with his cue this time, yet Cochran will tell you he played a fine funeral dirge with it.

The news that Ralph Greenleaf is going after the three-quarter title is interesting, but it fails to say whether he is to enter a pillow fight or a lounge lizard contest.

It seems reasonable to believe that at least 11 persons in the world agree with Walter Camp in his All-American selection.

American croquet is now being played in Australia. Which shows how an evil will spread if not checked in its infancy.

The bewickered Los Angeles newspaper who is a fighter ought to go to New York. That's where all the hard-line decisions are being handed out these days.

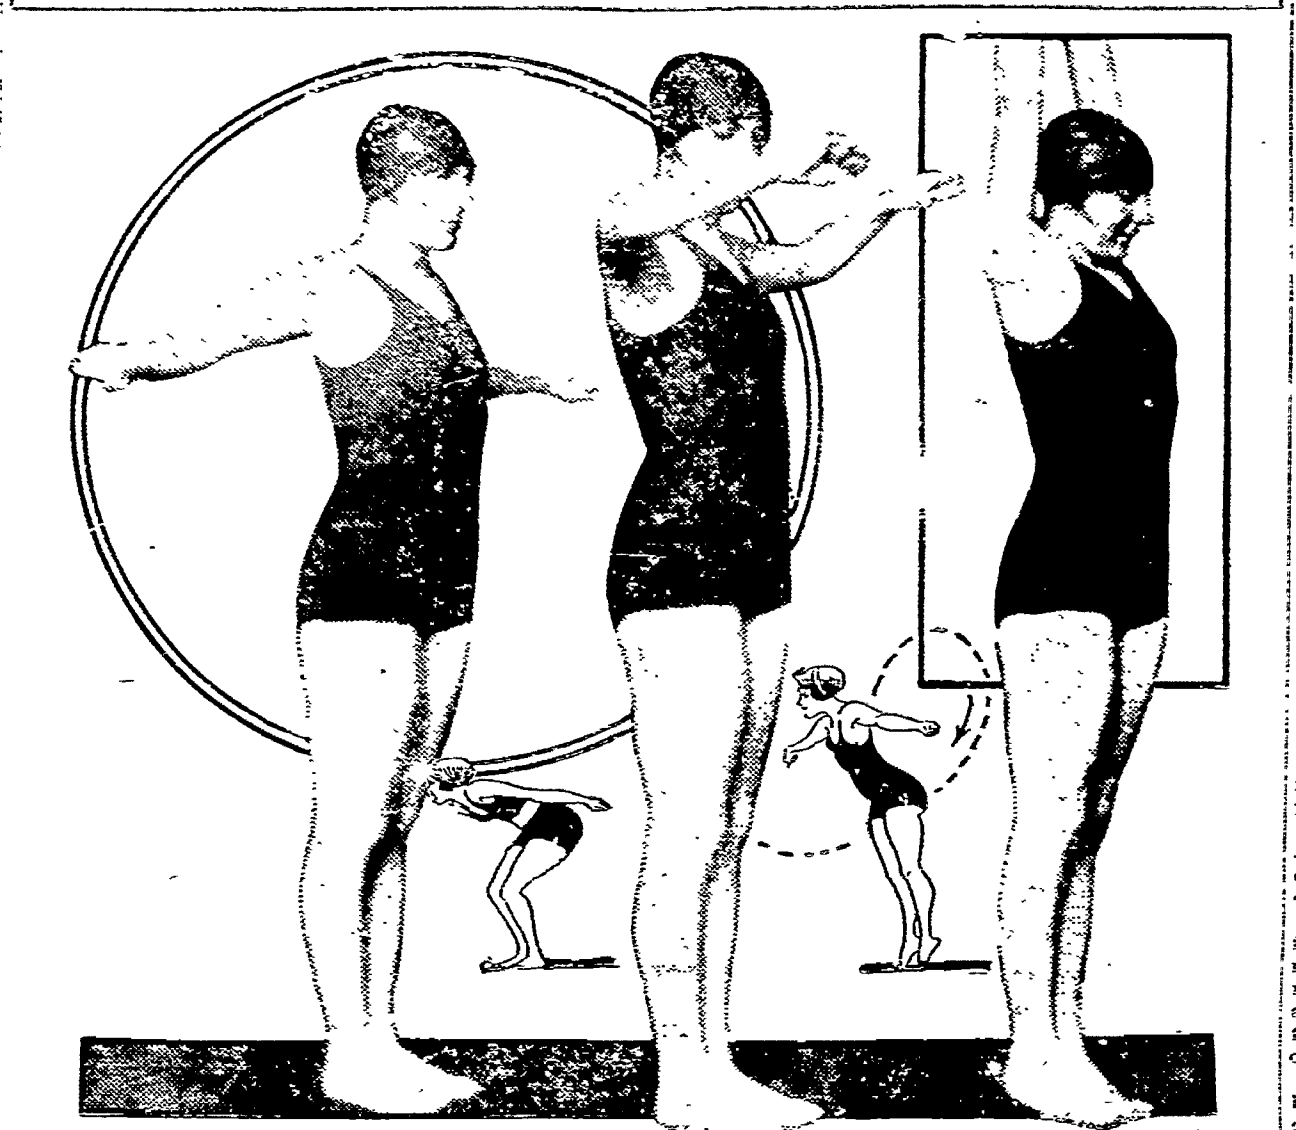

It is unlikely, however, that Joe Beckett will ever take up croquet. There is nothing in the game that requires a contestant to assume a horizontal position on the turf and listen to the mathematics of a referee.

Minnesota may have to call off its dogs because of absence of snow. Things have come to a pretty pass when even the snow refuses to fall for skiing.

The seating capacity of the Harvard stadium is to be increased to 100,000. This probably means that Tex Rickard is to be offered the job of head coach.

You gotta say this for the foreigners, they will go to any extreme for work. Here's Mons. Romero of Chile, for instance, challenging Dempsey.

Perfects New Racing Dive

MARY WEST, FAMOUS SWIMMER, IN THREE POSES OF NEW DIVE. NO. 1—STARTING POSITION. NO. 2—AFTER CIRCULAR ARM MOTION. NO. 3—FINAL POSITION BEFORE THE DIVE OFF. FIRST SKETCH ILLUSTRATES OLD STYLE DIVE. SECOND SKETCH, COACH PETERSON'S LATEST INNOVATION.

San Francisco—Higher plus forcible speed will equal new world records.

This is the theory upon which Gus Peterson, local swimming coach and trainer of international note, has perfected a new racing dive after months of study and experimentation.

"Pete" should know, for he has trained or assisted in training many swimmers from novice to champion ship among them being Frances Cowles and Ludy Langer.

"Practical experiments I have found that my present pupils are able to make much quicker time on short distances when they take the new dive," says Pete.

If swimmers of the champion class make a proportionate gain on time—and there's no reason to believe they won't—they can expect to see the 25 yards done in less than 10 seconds, and other short-distance records smashed.

Racers using Peterson's dive do not hit the water as soon as do crouching divers. Instead they gain diving distance, greater gravity force, and an added momentum from an upward arm swing.

First position of the new dive is erect, with arms extended to the sides on a line running slightly downward from the shoulders. First clench.

At the starter's "ready" the fists and arms are brought forcibly back in a circular motion, scarcely rising above the shoulders at any point. At the same time the elbows are bent until the hands reach a point forward of the shoulders and slightly above their level.

The arms and hands then continue upward without any break in the motion until they are extended above the head in correct diving position.

BETTER RECORDS

Peterson has calculated the time necessary for these movements so that it coincides with the elapsed time between the starter's "ready" and "go."

Thus the racer, without hesitation in the motion, slightly bends or relaxes the knees as his arms approach full extension, and dives forward coincidentally with the word "go," but without waiting for it. This retains the full force added through the upward arm motion.

The diver enters the water at a distance of some seven to nine feet from the starting spot and can, in races where desirable, stay under for a distance of approximately 30 feet; the momentum of the dive supplying most of the power for that distance.

Also, declares Peterson, a little practice will give perfection in regulating the depth or shallowness of the dive. Local swimmers are watching Pete's experiments with interest, seeing in them a probability of lowering not only short-distance records, but also materially bettering the time in relay events.

BADGERS DRILL FOR GAME WITH FRANKLIN QUINT

Coach Meanwell Keeps His Wiscn Consin Charges In Trim Over Holidays

Macdon—The Wisconsin basketball team is not to be given an opportunity to get "out of trim" during the Christmas vacation. This is the order of Dr. Walter Meanwell, Badger coach, who Thursday will start his charges on another stretch of preparation for the conference season which begins next week.

Coach Meanwell also is grooming his team for the game against Franklin college of Franklin, Ind., declared to be the "wonder" team of 1923 in basketball. The Franklin five was undefeated in seventeen contests last year. Among its competitors were Butler, DePaul and Wake Forest. Butler defeated Chicago and Wisconsin and in turn was taken into camp by the Franklin basket shooters. The team this year is composed almost identically of the same players as last year's all-victorious five, it is said.

Following the Franklin game on Jan. 2, the Badgers will open their conference schedule against Indiana on the Indiana court.

Thus far the team has shown strong form, according to coaches. It has met three strong preliminary opponents, including DePaul, Marquette and Milwaukee. DePaul tied the local five after three extra five minute periods.

Wisconsin, followers declare, will be one of the strong contenders for conference honors again this year. Iowa looms as the Badgers' principal opponent. The two teams will not meet until March 11, permitting both to develop into their best form of the season before the clash.

TAYLOR BEATS BATTING SIKI IN TEN ROUNDS

Senegalese Slowed Up By Lack Of Training; American Negro Draws Blood

Philadelphia—Jack Taylor, Omaha, Neb. negro heavyweight, was given the decision over Battling Siki, the Senegalese pugilist, in a ten round bout on Tuesday.

Siki, who apparently was not in the best of condition, forced the fighting in the first five rounds, and there were numerous stiff mixups in which wicked punches were exchanged. Then Siki's lack of condition began to tell and he was forced to hold frequently during the remainder of the contest.

When Siki started to slow up Taylor took the offensive, hitting the Senegalese boxer hard and often. At the end of the bout one of Siki's eyes was closed and blood was flowing from his mouth and nose. Taylor weighed 150 and Siki 177 lb.

In the semi-finals, Lew (Kid) Lewis of Bridgeport, Conn., won the judges' decision over Pedro Campo, Filipino, in a hard ten round bout.

EVANS JOINS HOLE-IN-1 CLUB ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Chicago—Charles "Chick" Evans who has been a champion golf player for many years Tuesday gave himself a Christmas present in the form of membership in the Hole-in-One club, when for the first time in the thousands of holes he has played, he made an ace on the fourth hole of the Edgewater Golf club course. He had two witnesses. The shot was 190 yards.

COACH AT PENN LOST 20 POUNDS DURING SEASON

Coaching a football team must be strenuous work. Lou Young, who made his debut as coach of the University of Pennsylvania this year, says he lost 20 pounds during the season. Young will be back at Pennsylv. next year, prepared to shed more precious poundage for the Red and Blue.

GREG OUTFIGHTS TOMMY LAUGHRAN

Pittsburg—Harry Greb of Pittsburg, middleweight champion of the world, was awarded the decision over Tommy Laughran of Philadelphia, at the end of their ten-round match here on Tuesday afternoon. Laughran used a left jab to Greb's jaw very effectively, but Greb was too fast for him and outfought him all the way. Greb weighed 153 pounds and Laughran 155 lb.

BIG LEAGUE CLUBS REFUSE TO WAIVE SHORTSTOP LAVAN

Managerial Career With Minor Circuits Delayed By Major Magnates

BECAUSE two National League managers are not convinced that Johnny Lavan has reached the end of his major league career a managerial career with a minor league club will be delayed.

With Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals discarding veterans and rebuilding with youths Lavan has not been included in the list of eligibles for the 1934 team. When the word was recently passed around that Lavan was in the open market three minor league owners immediately opened negotiations for the major league shortstopper with a view of getting him for manager.

And just when the transaction was about to be closed Arthur Fletcher of the Phillies and Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers interrupted the plot. For both Fletcher and Robinson, inspecting their infielders and finding them in need of an experienced shortstopper were ready to talk terms for Lavan.

AD STONE DEFEATS O'DOWD IN EIGHTH

Philadelphia—Ad Stone, Philadelphia light heavyweight, stopped Dan O'Dowd, Boston, in the eighth round of their scheduled ten round bout on Tuesday when O'Dowd's seconds asked a towel to be rung in to save him from further punishment. Stone has from the start and gave the Boston boxer a bad beating. O'Dowd weighed 150 pounds and Stone 177.

RYAN OPENS GRID CLASS FOR WINTER

Wisconsin Coach Uses Lull In Football To Teach Aspirants Basic Rules

Madison—Coach Jack Ryan, football mentor of the University of Wisconsin team, has instituted a weekly conference and class for contenders for the 1934 Badger gridiron team. Football tactics are discussed at the conference, fundamental plays gone over and other basic problems considered.

The Badger coach has urged all men students eligible to the team next year to attend the classes, which will continue throughout the winter until spring football opens up. The innovation is a scheme for giving newcomers on the squad an opportunity to get into various tactics without devoting a great deal of attention to them in the spring workout.

HOCKEY MAGNATES MEET AT KAUKAUNA

F. R. V. Chiefs Plan To Help Electric City Club Organize

Hockey magnates of the valley league have called a pep meeting at the Kaukauna American Legion rooms for 7 o'clock Friday evening to aid the fans of the Electric City in establishing themselves as members of the new organized league.

Warm weather and poor ice are keeping the F. R. V. hockey teams from practicing and the loop will get off to a third start this year. However, preparations are in progress to build a strong league which will last through the season, without any teams dropping by the wayside.

Kaukauna, the most recent entry in the league, has been having some difficulty in making final arrangements for material and rink, and methods of fostering interest in the ice sport will be discussed at the meeting Friday night. At the last convocation here, it was decided to adopt a schedule at the next meeting, and Secretary Bachman of Appleton will submit his plans to the assembled magnates at Kaukauna.

Rush, the crack hurler of the Neenah-Menasha Palls, who pitched his team to a pennant in the Wisconsin State league last season, will again be at the helm of the club when it comes to play ball. It is said that the Palls Roller Skating Tonite.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Winter sport associations are dropping into existence in many cities along the Valley. There are many followers of ice boating along the river points and this sport is carried to great success in Oshkosh. The newly organized Hockey league should tend to kick up considerable interest.

Football directors of the schools in the Valley conference will meet in Green Bay shortly after the first of the year to draft the football schedules for the coming fall. The tentative dates will be in great demand. The pugkin officials will also be appointed at this confab.

A slippery basketball floor nearly robbed the conference of one of its best basketball officials. Cub Buck was handling a game at Hortonville the other night on a dance floor court. The football star lost his balance during a mix up and he crashed with a bang. It got a laugh from the crowd.

Fight fans in this neck of the woods won't lack for action during the next three weeks as a trio of permits have been issued by the State commission for ring shows on the following dates: Jan. 1 Appleton, Jan. 11, Green Bay and Jan. 17 Fond du Lac. All of the clubs are planning feature cards.

Appleton high's boxing hopes are gloomy and Coach Wilson isn't holding out any hopes of a championship aggregation. The local school is without veteran boxing material and several of the most promising candidates are barred due to low scholastic standing.

East Green Bay scored the first basketball victory in the Valley conference this season by taking their old rival, Green Bay West, into camp off to the score of 13 to 9 in a thrilling game. It required two extra periods to decide the supremacy in the fracas between the Bay schools.

Gene Carr, the Appleton cue shark, has been named president of the newly organized pool league in the valley. Five cities are competing in the circuit and weekly games will feature Carr as experienced in this branch of sport and, if he gets support, the loop will go over successfully.

Rush, the crack hurler of the Neenah-Menasha Palls, who pitched his team to a pennant in the Wisconsin State league last season, will again be at the helm of the club when it comes to play ball. It is said that the Palls

CORBETT BANKED ON FRAMERS BUT GOT DOUBLECROSS

Gentleman Jim Was Told Cops Would Steal In: Sharkey Beats Him Up

A COMPLETE record of ring skullbargery would make interesting literature. For one thing, it would reveal some of our ring nobles in a rather unheroic light. The heavyweight battle between Jim Corbett and Tom Sharkey at New York in 1895 was a frameup. To be exact, it was a double frameup. Corbett had been told the police were to stop the fight after the sixth round. Consequently Gentleman Jim trained hapnazardly, and was in poor shape.

Word was passed down the line to the wise set that Corbett was to win and the sure-thing boys bet money. Had they known the same clues that launched the report that the bout was fixed was active in covering all the Corbett money that appeared, the "sure-things" would have been terribly surprised.

Corbett was framed by the framers. For six rounds the actor-athlete jabbed Sharkey silly, and was leading by forty kilometers. In the interim, between the sixth and seventh rounds Corbett sat in his corner waiting with unruffled patience for the police to stop the fight.

When the gong rang, starting the seventh round, Corbett who had used up all his energy in the preceding rounds, was too dumbfounded to put up his hands. From then on Sharkey proceeded to reverse the tables, and in the ninth round, with Corbett hanging on and apparently on the verge of a knockout, Jim's chief second, Con McVey, leaped through the ropes.

This, of course, constituted a foul, and Sharkey was declared the victor.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Value so pronounced that you are justified in looking upon the purchase of a Dodge Brothers Motor Car as the soundest possible investment in transportation.

Not a dollar is added to the purchase price to support a free service policy; nor to cover the costliness of numerous body or chassis types; nor to pay interest on borrowed money; nor to maintain a multiple organization of middlemen.

Dodge Brothers finance themselves. They sell directly through a single organization of dealers to you. They do not believe in charging in advance for service you may never need. They have developed remarkable economies, and a time-seasoned product, by concentrating on standard types.

These facts are reflected, not only in the price of the Car, but in the quality of workmanship and materials that enter into its construction.
